—Dr. Lee leaves here this morning for Inyo county to attend to the Inyo canal business.

Temperance Lecture.

This evening Rev. Thomas Magill will deliver a Temperance lecture at the Old Theatre Hall.

Admission free. All invited. The best of music will be in attendance, and as the Rev. Magill is a rare orator. Those who attend will be thoroughly entertained.

Little Folks.

Little folks are generally very bright and wide awake. A great big dog was roaming about the yard muzzled, when a little girl rushed into the house in terror. Her sister, younger but more valiant, coolly surveyed the situation, and reassured her by saying, "He can't bite, he's got on his bustle." Although the little miss had a wrong impression of how to adjust the article in question, she was always right when she came down to Oleovich Bros', store, for whatever was wanted in the house. All should do the same.

For Groceries, Dry Goods, Shoes or Carpets, Underwear, Hats and Fancy Goods, go to Oleovich Bros., as the only place where best goods are offered at such low prices.

—Charles Jay of Gold Hill was drowned in the plunge bath at Steamboat Springs last Saturday.

A jury returned a verdict of suicide.

—If old Thurman is permitted to talk and write letters he will make about the same kind of a show of himself as old Horace Greeley did when run on the Independent ticket.

—Joe Platt wants the public to understand that he has a little the finest line of ready made clothing ever brought to the State. He is selling large quantities of Summer goods. Give him a call.

—Do not take quinine for malarial disorders. Ayer's Ague Cure contains none, nor any other injurious ingredient. This preparation if taken strictly in accordance with directions, is warranted to cure all malarial diseases.

—Cleveland and Thurman make a queer team to harness together. One is for free trade and the other for protection. Thurman's name was dragged in to catch the Democratic votes, the Convention feeling certain that there must be one regular Democrat on the ticket to pull it up the line.

—Mr. Johnston, the Free Trade cotton spinner of Cohoes, said in defending his support of the Mills bill: "When the employees are brought down to working for low wages, as they are in Europe, they will not be able to strike. They will have to keep right at work, and we shall have no more trouble with them."

—Geo. T. Davis has just received another lot of that, best of all corn fed, sugar cured Challenge brand of meat.

Hams, boneless breakfast Bacon, Pickled Pork and Dried Beef. Also Cream Cheese, English and American Piccalilli, Pickled Onions, American Biscuit Co's choice bake of assorted cakes and crackers, best bottled Beer, choice imported Champagne, Claret and Port Wines.

Customers furnished with postal cards on which to send orders. Goods delivered to all parts of the county, free of expressage.

The Babies Cry For It.

And the old folks laugh when they find that the pleasant California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, is more easily taken and more beneficial in its action than bitter, nauseous medicines. It strengthens the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach, and Bowels, while it arouses them to a healthy activity. For sale by Geo. C. Thaxter, Agent.

FLOWERS AND MUSIC.

A Curious Sight at the States Prison on Sunday.

Of late the Sunday Services at the States Prison have become quite a feature and crowds go down every Sunday to see the concert, enjoy the services and hear the singing.

The Chaplain has departed from the orthodox line of work and instead of treating the inmates of the place to long prayers, long sermons, Litanies etc., has taken pains to introduce some little novelties each Sunday not down on the bills of the previous Sunday.

On one occasion he took the Harmonica Club of boys down there and they played on their queer little instruments until the prisoners were half crazed with delight. A good many fine singers have gone down there at different times and nothing seem to please the men so much as good singing with organ accompaniment.

Last Sunday Mrs. Howe took a choir of young ladies down there and after the singing was over, the Chaplain announced that there would be a bouquet of flowers given to every prisoner.

Quite a crowd was on hand in anticipation of this event and the cage where the visitors gather on Sundays contained at least, one hundred and forty people.

A round of applause greeted the announcement that the flowers were to be distributed and the guards went in among the men with the bouquets.

It was a queer scene, some of the men reached forward excitedly and hesitated as if they could hardly make up their minds that the flowers were really for them. It was a strange thing this mingling of the scent of roses with the damp, dank odor that always brings to one's mind the thought of crime and misery.

The men pressed the roses to their nostrils and the tears stole down the cheeks of a good many, as the flowers must have brought to their minds some better, sweeter memories of times gone by, when the scents of roses and geraniums were flung round the pathways of their youth, and perhaps some face fairer than the flowers, peered through the mists of wasted years to haunt their memories after the singers had departed and the turnkey had closed them in for another night.

There were two large wreathes of flowers which were for the two oldest men, and as their names were called two prisoners with bent figures and white hair came forward and bowed acknowledgments as they received their wreathes. They smiled at the distinction, but as they went back looked rather subdued and serious.

The Chaplain has invited John Dennis of the Mint to make a little talk to the prisoners some Sunday afternoon and he has agreed to do so.

The warden has agreed to double the guards and see that no one escapes during the talk.

Off for Chicago.

On Sunday evening there was a large crowd at the depot to bid the Chicago delegation good bye.

Evans Williams with his face smiling like a new moon, was at the train with his family. Billy Sharon, of Virginia, was there also with his wife. Governor Stevenson and wife, Joe Harlow and his wife were aboard and Geo. Thaxter with his wife.

All were expecting after Chicago to roam about the country and visit relatives and have a general good time.

At Reno they joined the California delegation who came over in a special car and you can bet high that if there is a carload of California wine aboard in charge of M. H. DeYoung that there is considerable good old fashion hilarity aboard as the APPEAL goes to press.

The Enterprise has sent Alf Chantz to Chicago to take a short hand report of all the proceedings.

—Blumenthal & Cohn have at last, in the "Tiger" hat, found a hat that gives satisfaction to everybody, and yesterday placed a $2,000 Fall order with Mr. Lagerre, agent for Kieth Bros., Chicago, manufacturers of the "Tiger" hat.

ALGER STILL GAINING.

The Political Leaders Are Courting His Attention.

New York, June 9.—Now that the St. Louis Convention has disposed of the Democratic nominations public interest has turned to the Republicans. The withdrawal of Blaine had an excellent effect on the Republican national organization, which, until his last letter, was partially demoralized by an interne strife. The members of the National Committee were for Blaine or against him—in a very pronounced way. His withdrawal healed all differences and the national organization is now in fine shape. The New York newspapers talk of new as loudly as ever, and some of the Democratic journals, like the Sun, for instance, do not hesitate to say that he can carry New York against any Democrat. But while the newspaper discussion is progressing the political managers are quietly fighting the battle of the convention. The real fight for the Republican nomination is now going on, and the man who makes the greatest headway is Alger. Ever since that gentleman appeared at the Fifth-avenue Hotel, now some three weeks ago, he has gained strength in New York and New England regions. Just how he scored his gain is not known. He came, was closeted with certain leaders, and then, without fuss or ceremony, returned to his home in Detroit. Immediately thereafter his candidacy began to receive respectful attention from people and newspapers which had hitherto been indifferent or inimical to his interests. With these latest accessions he is undoubtedly the strongest candidate with the masses of all who are listed for the great race.

Pahrnagat Pass.

A correspondent of the Pioche Record writes as follows: Since my last communication, the U. C. R. extension surveyors have run a line into our valley coming from the east; but so far as I am informed they have not tried to get out westward, but have gone back to the monument to try and find a route north of us. We think now that they intend to go round us if they can, but it provokes a smile from the looker on to see them get to Panaca and over the summit on this side and not be able to cross the Pahrnagat Pass.

The Billiard Game.

There was a lively billiard game at the Ozark Sunday morning about four o'clock between two of Carson's sports for twenty dollars aside one man played 100 points and the other 75 the betting on the outside was lively. Connely offering to bet 100 to 50 on shots during the game and just at day break the lights were shut off which made the room quite dark but the boys said it was as fair for one as the other so the game went on, the players never changed balls once. When the last run was made you could hear a pin drop on floor. Prof. Taylor won.
